Renewed Framework Contract for Voith Industrial Services with Toyota USA in Alabama, Indiana and West Virginia

2015-09-22

- Successful cooperation in the USA for 15 years

In the USA, Toyota partners with Voith Industrial Services Inc. at several sites. Recently, the industrial services provider has renewed its framework contracts with the car manufacturer in Indiana, Alabama and West Virginia.

At the Toyota plant in Indiana, the contract comprises infrastructural facility management, maintenance, repairs as well as technical cleaning activities. At the Toyota plant in Alabama and West Virginia, the emphasis is on maintenance and technical cleaning services. With tailor-made solutions, the experienced industrial services provider creates an ideal work environment at both plants, allowing the car manufacturer to concentrate on its core business while realizing cost advantages.

“We are proud to continue providing services to Toyota in Alabama, Indiana and West Virginia. The cooperation is characterized by great mutual trust, appreciation and true partnership. To us, this is the key to success”, says David Rohde, General Manager at Voith Industrial Services in the USA.

The Toyota Alabama and West Virginia engine plants produce car and truck engines and transmissions. The Toyota Manufacturing plant in Indiana is located in Gibson County. Today, the Toyota Sequoia, Toyota Sienna, Toyota Highlander and Toyota Highlander Hybrid vehicles are produced there.
